

it's about the vehicle performance based on the given parameters.

SAYS

THINKS

factors such as terrain temperature, weather, trip length and environment, driving behavior, and load all affect the performance of the vehicle overtime.

while regular cars have moderately powerful engines that easily handle performance and sports cars need a powerful motor to provide higher performance.

DOES

FEELS

vehicle performance is the study of the motion of vehicle the motion of any vehicle depends upon all the forces and moments that act upon it .

